

Student Participant Agreement

This agreement is entered into by and between the Trustees of the California State University and California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, hereinafter referred to as "University," and

_____, Here in after referred to as "Student"
(Print name)

And, if participant is a minor, parent or legal guardian of "Student"

_____,
(Print name)

For whose benefit said parent or legal guardian is entering this agreement.

University and Student agree as follows:

1 VOLUNTARY PARTICIPATION

Participation in this Off Campus Academic Program is VOLUNTARY. Participation in this Off Campus Academic Program is not mandatory for completion of degree requirements.

2 CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE

*Participants agree to properly conduct themselves at all times during the course of the Program. Any violation of University standards of conduct could lead to sanctions being imposed consistent with CSU Student Discipline Policies and Procedures, including, but not limited to suspension or expulsion from the program. Furthermore, violations of the university standards of conduct will result in immediate expulsion from the project solely at the student's cost of early-return travel.

Students are expected to refrain from the use of alcohol and other controlled substances, and to return to their lodging location by 11 p.m. each night.

Students are expected to bring work clothes, sturdy shoes, and clothes to relax in after hours (a full packing list will be provided prior to departure).

3 UNIVERSITY SERVICES

The Center for Service in Action will arrange travel accommodations, including booking air travel, lodging and ground transportation while in the Cape Town area, trip orientation meetings, and educational workshops.

4 ACADEMIC PROGRAM

This co-curricular activity will develop intercultural awareness, preparing Cal Poly students to function in a multicultural society. The program is open to all students in all colleges. The program will target the following CAS (Council for Academic Standards in Higher Education) standards:

1. Leadership
 - Appreciate collaboration as a component of facilitating change
 - Motivate others to become involved in their communities
 - Recognize and articulate where change is needed
2. Civic Engagement
 - Identify the rights and responsibilities of citizenship in a democracy
 - Understand the different governance systems
 - Examine social issues and describe their viewpoints
 - Apply knowledge from their major to civic societal issues
3. Diversity
 - Work through controversy with civility
 - Reflect on their own positions of power and privilege
4. Cognitive Development
 - Demonstrate an ability to think in complex ways about civic and societal issues
 - Question the dominant assumptions in their learning
 - Define justice in the context of social issues
 - Translate leadership and civic engagement theories into practice
5. Personal Development
 - Articulate their own personal values and how those differ from the value systems of others

The Program of Study

Who: A committed group of 20 Cal Poly Representatives (17 students + 3 staff members)

What: The Alternative Breaks Service Program allows Cal Poly students the opportunity to serve their global community while addressing humanitarian issues through strong direct service, educational workshops, and group reflection during summer, winter, and spring breaks. Generally, these trips last one to two weeks, and the program is open to all students, from all colleges and majors.

Why: Collaborative volunteer excursions will give Cal Poly students a chance to make a lasting contribution and work together to positively affect other communities. It is a chance to raise students' self-awareness, supplement their educational experience with the University, and demonstrate Cal Poly's enthusiasm to make a positive impact outside the SLO community. Students will be immersed in the local culture, which will provide the opportunity to examine social issues and reflect on their own positions of power and privilege.

Details: Student participants will be required to attend 4 orientation workshops through a collaborative effort between the Center for Service in Action and the Center for Leadership, which will cover logistical items, trip policies, and authentic leadership, covering topics of power, privilege, and identity. This training will cover material on white (privileged) savior complex in service, conducting service cross-culturally, and dealing with cultural dissonance through the framework of the Global Leadership Series (GLS). The group will spend about 11 days working in collaboration with Film School Africa (FSA), a post-secondary education program, building students marketable skills for the burgeoning film industry in S. Africa. Historical and cultural excursions of the greater Cape Town area will be included to provide the appropriate context and framework for service and addressing community needs. Service activities will include a peer learning project and service at FSA facilities or community partner sites.
